

Below is an email from a New Zealand school teacher explaining what has been going on in her high school.

I have changed one or two details to protect her identity. In this blog, I call her Susan.

She wrote to me responding to the video of me speaking in Warkworth in September this year. This video has had over 6000 views now and still going strong. Please pass this video on to as many as you can. It's helping our cause hugely.

Susan was terrified that by sharing her thoughts she would be 'found out'. This is Nazi Germany.

Top right is a picture of Jews being humiliated in front of a crowd in Germany in the 1930s. The school teacher I am quoting in the blog below was humiliated in a similar way.

Read for yourself her account below, and let me know your thoughts by commenting on this web site.

Hi Julian

I was inspired about what you said about your kids being made to be ashamed to be non-Maori.

I am an immigrant, NZ born so I grew up here with a different name, customs etc... but anyway I now work at my old High School which used to be a prestigious and academic school and the radical transformation is sad to see.

In 2021 we had a two day teacher only day led by two radicals where we all got shouted at and accused of white privilege among other things - they also started Christian bashing - I had the courage to stand up and be counted when they asked how many Christians were there but that was so they could lay into the Missionaries. (I actually want to be ordained in the Anglican church but I am too white!). I, among others, found those days distasteful and it made one of my colleagues ill.

Yesterday we had another two hour indoctrination workshop where Maori students are to be treated differently and Maori now has to be incorporated into teaching - even algebra.

I work with refugees and other girls who are struggling with English and generally suffering from culture shock without added pressure. Staff meetings are now in a pidgin English and we also have to pray a Maori prayer to their gods.

Please don't get me wrong - I am so not anti-Maori. I even learnt Te Reo but I found the class too slow at the time so I got bored and left - I have friends who are Maori, my brother in Australia has a number working for him who just want to work and build a life for themselves there.

I have worshiped at a Maori Anglican Church and once I would have been keen to learn more but being made to feel guilty for something I haven't done is too much and now it is starting to get my back up.

The story about your land intrigued and frightened me too.

Susan

This is not an isolated incident.

Two months ago I had an disturbing report from a physiotherapist from Wellington. She had the same story as Susan. Two days of heavy indoctrination. It's sickening stuff. It's ideological clap trap and it's happening right here in New Zealand.

Who would have thought that anyone watching the development of the Nazi Party in Germany prior to the second world war would witness remarkable similarities in New Zealand in 2022.

What's coming next? That's easy to predict now.

Hate speech legislation (above right is Kiri Allan, who has vowed to push through her hate speech legislation before Christmas). Even though it's said to be 'watered down' they will have left themselves enough wriggle room to shut anyone down. This is the Maori elite way.

No doubt my web site will be shut down.

Between now and the next election expect the Nazification of New Zealand to ramp right up.

This is a radical Maori takeover of New Zealand happening right under our noses.

How you can help?

Have some of these business cards printed and start handing them out.

They are so powerful. One person I handed them to, a complete stranger, happened to have a data base of 300 people on her address book. She contacted me telling me this after the fact.

Through that one card, the video of me speaking in Warkworth shot up by over 500 viewings in one night.

Just imagine if 1000 people were handing out cards.

If we don't do anything practically, our silence will be interpreted as our being complicit with what's going on.

P.S If you are in a government department, like the police, hospital, school, justice, social welfare, council, etc and you have a story to tell, I want to hear from you. I promise to protect your identity. I think if we join the dots here, and found out the extent of the brainwashing, Kiwis would be horrified.
