

RE: SPORT NORTHLAND AND THEIR RACIST ATTITUDES

In yesterday blog, I wrote about how we were looking for a venue in Whangarei to hold a meeting.

One of those venue was Sport Northland, a large complex.

We were banned because the organisation had just signed up to support co-governance, and what they called a Te Tiriti framework for their organisation.

You can read the email which banned us HERE

My question to Stu the manager who banned us was this – what if Maori had been banned from holding a public meeting to express their views?

Email him expressing your views: stuartm@sportnorth.co.nz

Those doing the banning would have been instantly labeled “Racist!” It would have been front page news, and on TV no doubt.

But because we are non-Maori, it’s quite acceptable. Really, all this incident with Sport Northland does is reinforce all the things we are saying on our web site. It ought to fuel our fire.

WRITE TO MENG FOON, RACE RELATIONS CONCILIATOR

Suggestion? Can you all write to the office of Meng Foon and complain?

He gives his email address as: infoline@hrc.co.nz

I don’t have time to do this, but you might have time. Just sent him my blog post. All the details he needs are in there.

OK, onto other things.

RE: OUR NEW BOOKLET ON WHY CO-GOVERNANCE IS WRONG IS ON-LINE!

Good news! The booklet I wrote on co-governance is now up on-line on a platform where it can be:

1. Read like a book, but without the need for a physical book.
2. Emailed to anyone anywhere. Just copy the link and forward it on to everyone on your address book.

A few pointers:

1. Be sure to read it in full screen mode.
2. You can increase the size of the font instantly. Just click the + and minus signs with your mouse.

We are planning to have physical copies of this book printed so that you can order them and put them in letter boxes in your suburb.

The other good thing about this on-line version is that it can be edited / changed / added to anytime and instantly updated. Whereas with a physical book, once it’s printed, the content is fixed until the next reprint.

I welcome your input into the booklet and your appraisal.

Here it is HERE

RE: WORKING AS A TEAM

As I said yesterday....

What's crucial now is that we have to work as a big team.

It can't be "Let's see what Julian does". No no no. This is a recipe for certain failure.

It has to be everyone pitching in, working hard, making sacrifices, taking risks, doing things they have never done before, pushing on when things are tough and hard, hardening up on the inside, becoming brave.

Yesterday, when I appealed for people to order business cards from me so that they could start handing them out to the unconverted, only two people responded.

We can do better. We have to do better. We've got to do better.

You see, stopping co-governance is about raising public awareness. Once aware, the unconverted will convert, and join our cause.

We have to get to the unconverted.

GIVING OUT BUSINESS CARDS

The business cards are small but extremely effective way to start.

Anyone can do it. Literally anyone. You don't even have to talk to anyone if you don't want to. You can put them in letter boxes, or slide them in between the rubber and the glass on the driver's door of cars in car parks.

Really, it's terribly easy. If a lot of people did a little, say gave away five cards a day each, we'd make one heck of a big impact over time.

One cards in the hands of the right person can make a huge impact.

Today is another day. Let's see what happens.

The good news is that we now have 10 people around the country giving out these cards!

I will, from now on, update you will numbers each day.

OUR MISSION

Just to re-iterate, the reason we are doing what we are doing is to raise public awareness about the wrongs of co-governance.

Because of the governments $105 Public Interest Journalism Fund, the country has been groomed to embrace co-governance i.e. Systematic brainwashing.

To beat this, we have to go directly to the people on the street, hence our public meetings, the business cards, my Warkworth video, the new booklet on line, etc.

And once public awareness is raised, what then?

Streets marches and mass rallies.

What for? To put pressure on political parties to completely outlaw co-governance and to commit to repealing all race-based legislation.

But before these rallies and street marches can happen, we have to get numbers up i.e. hundreds of thousands on board.

This is where team work kicks in. Without EVERYONE pitching in, we'll fail.

If we all pitch in, we'll succeed.

Really, it's that simple.
